IRELAND INTERVIEWED.

The Failure of the Lower House to Accomplish Anything Cause the Changes in the North.

Cleveland Entirely too Watchful of His Interests in New York State. Causes of Dissatisfaction.

Ex Congressman John Hancock Thinks the Party has Failed to Make Good Its Pledges to the G. O. P.

CLEVELAND TAKEN TO TASK.

Special to the Gazette.

LUTHER, TEX., Nov. 5.—Gov. Ireland was interviewed in the executive office on the Democratic defeat in the North, and said: "I have not had time to give the results of the late election much thought, and there would necessarily be much speculation in any theory I might advance touching the vote in Morrison's and Carlisle's districts. With the best lights before me I am inclined to believe that much money has been used in effecting their defeat. Again, I cannot overlook the fact that Mr. Morrison's tariff bill, 'horizontal,' was lacking in statesmanship. The only idea advanced by this bill was that the government was collecting more money than they needed, whereas, if the object was to strike at the present high tariff, there are many articles that should go on the free list, and reductions ranging from a naught to a hundred per cent. made of those now taxed. I have never been able to appreciate his horizontal bill. It is likely his district has taken the view of it I have indicated. Again, Morrison and Carlisle are regarded as leaders in the house and the total failure of the house to do anything toward reform may have contributed to the defeat of both gentlemen. Late indications lead to the belief that Carlisle may be elected, but if so, it will be by so reduced a majority that it must be accepted as a virtual defeat."

"Do you think that dissatisfaction with the present administration had anything to do with the result?"

"It may be that the course of the present administration was a large factor in these two districts, and the country has seized upon this occasion to evince its disapprobation of the course of Mr. Cleveland."

"In what particular is there especial dissatisfaction with Mr. Cleveland?"

"Mr. Cleveland had no right to add a plank to the Democratic platform after his election, as he did on the silver question. He undoubtedly has his eye on New York in the time, and apparently knows but little of the balance of the country, nor can we say of our country admire an administration that shapes its foreign policy to the interest of our own pocket and pride in the interest of the capital."

WHAT HANCOCK SAYS.

Congressman John Hancock was interviewed to-day on the Democratic defeat, and said: "While I sincerely regret it, I cannot say that I am surprised as to Morrison, but as to Carlisle, and do not believe the report as to him. It is a great blow at this juncture to the Democratic party, but is one not thoroughly anticipated by those who look beneath the surface of everyday politics. It would be a matter of no surprise to me if the hands of a majority of forty-three in the house should be changed into a smaller one, but a majority for the opposition is not likely. Recently, in conversation with Judge Reagan, I predicted the danger, and warned him that Democracy was pursuing a dangerous policy in not placing itself in accord with the spirit of the times and in its off-repeated pledges."

"What pledges do you refer to, judge?"

"I refer to the tariff question. Instead of attempting to carry out a policy that would look to reforming the tariff to an equitable and just import duty upon foreign importation, the party has been placed before the country in a false light by a few well-meaning but impracticable men, who have shouted themselves hoarse with windy declamations in favor of free trade, a chimera, an ignis fatuus that can never be realized until free trade shall become universal throughout the world. Revenue must be had to meet the expenses of the government, and no plan presents a more practical method to secure it than a tax upon the foreign importations. This tax the statesman of the free-trade school ignore altogether, while Randall and his followers would make it sufficient to protect and enrich those engaged in this country in manufacture. To both of the extremes I am opposed, and does the Democratic party stand pledged against, but a few of its self-constituted leaders will now and then flash up with the cry of free trade, and their wild and impracticable theories are taken up by the enemies of the party and paraded as official declarations of its policy. There is a middle ground upon which the South and great West unite, and if a Democratic

TERRELL.

Wanted for Stealing Horses—An Air Chamber Explodes.

Special to the Gazette.

TERRELL, TEX., Nov. 5.—On October 22 Messrs. Russell Bros. bought a horse from a man who gave his name as A. M. Hainington. The bill of sale was so signed and witnessed by W. B. Pate. It turns out that the horse was stolen from Mr. R. H. Wensaker of Wood county on the night of October 20, who this morning made affidavit to the horse and secured possession of him. The thief's real name is probably Hainington. He has a brother living in Wood county, near Mr. Wensaker, who stands well in his community.

Mr. J. H. Bishop, superintendent of Dr. Washfield's farm and gin, near Scurry, received a very ugly and painful, though not necessarily fatal wound in the face yesterday, by the explosion of the air chamber of the pump at the gin. He was brought here before medical attention was given him. He is a son of C. Bishop, of this place.

THE TEXAS CONTEST.

The Official Counts Now Coming in do not Change the Result on any Important Office.

Van Zandt County Buwells in Sack Cloth and Askes the Surrendering of Her Democratic Name.

A Contest will be Made in Grimes County on Sheriff, Where the Will of the People has been Thwarted.

Van Zandt County.

Special to the Gazette.

WILLS POINT, TEX., Nov. 5.—Van Zandt is all covered up with disgrace instead of glory. W. E. Farmer, Independent, Greenbacker, Dark-Lanterner, everything but Democrat, has carried the county by eighty majority over Hon. C. B. Kilgore. "Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Askelon; lest the daughters of the Philistines rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph." * * * How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! This district will give Kilgore an overwhelming majority, but Van Zandt will sit alone and weep that the agitating, demagogical influence of Farmer should have cost a shadow upon the princely nobility of a man like Kilgore. The county gives the Galveston nominees about 2400 majority. The semi-official report of the vote changes yesterday's report only slightly.

Falls Pinto County.

Special to the Gazette.

MINERAL WELLS, TEX., Nov. 5.—Ten days ago this county was completely in the hands of the Dark-Lanterners, but by good hard electioneering on the part of the Democracy we were enabled to carry the county by a small majority for the state ticket, but lost our representative—Lattimer, the candidate of the Dark-Lanterners, being elected in the district by a small majority. Latham, Democratic candidate for congress, will carry this county by a large majority over Barnett, and will be elected in the district by a majority of at least 15,000 or 20,000. Gen. Ross, contrary to the opinion of those who claimed to be in a position to know, leads the Democratic ticket in this county, the only reason that can be given for it being that Judge Wheeler closely canvassed this county and took occasion to condemn secret political organizations in all his speeches, and thereby engendered the ill-feeling of that class of voters, though he has strengthened himself with the Democrats of the county.

The Dark-Lanterners have elected two or three of the county officers, but their leading candidates for county judge, the present incumbent, was defeated by a small majority, and will now retire to the shades of private life. The general impression now is that Jim Owens, the present incumbent of the office of sheriff, has been defeated by Higgins, the Dark-Lanterner candidate, thus depriving us of one of the best sheriffs in the state. Much ill-feeling has been engendered as a result of the election, but it is to be hoped that all will quietly submit to the will of the majority.

Archer County.

Correspondence of the Gazette.

ARCHER CITY, TEX., Nov. 4.—Hate is in the lead for congress. Finley is ahead for district judge. L. L. Whitich is thought to be ahead for district attorney. Robert Kerr is re-elected county judge, and W. W. Durkin for county clerk. Dennis Youkum is elected sheriff and M. J. Wicker for assessor of taxes.

Polk County.

Special to the Gazette.

CARTHAGE, TEX., Nov. 5.—There was a small fall off in the vote. The state Democratic ticket carries by about 1800 majority. Col. Kilgore runs ahead of the ticket 600 votes. No prohibition tickets were voted, and the negroes voted generally the Republican ticket.

Hays County.

Special to the Gazette.

RYLE, TEX., Nov. 5.—Messrs. McGhee and Ellison are elected to the legislature. Both are Ireland men.

Martin County.

Special to the Gazette.

JEFFERSON, TEX., Nov. 5.—The vote of Martin county is all counted. For congress, D. B. Culbertson received 821 votes; J. T. Fleming, 578 votes. For governor, Ross, 694; Cochran, 1157. For senator, Armstrong, 1487; Hearn, 250.

Grayson County.

Special to the Gazette.

SHERMAN, TEX., Nov. 5.—Official returns have been received from only sixteen out of thirty-three precincts in this, Grayson county, which give Ross 2570 votes, Cochran 540 votes and Doboney 250 votes. Returns from twenty-four out of thirty-three precincts give the following results: Ross, 4200; Cochran, 1050; Doboney, 905. For congress—Hare, 3625; Fickett, 1400; Mack, 825. For governor for Grayson and Cooke counties—Bell, 2872; Stamper, 1425. For
